Judges Comments:

Reasonably strong Class. Gold medal wines were good examples of two differing and valid styles of chardonnay. Main issues were premature development and lack of fruit concentration.

Judges Comments:

An interesting array of styles. Top wine showed good fruit balance and a diversity of winemaking techniques. Too many sweet innocuous wines. Watch oxidation issues. Encouragement to complex use of yeast and winemaking techniques.

Judges Comments:

Exhibit 13 moved to Class 20.

A great Class of wines. Top wines showed classic varietal characteristics, balance and freshness. Too many wines showing early development and excessive sweetness.

Many plain, flavourless wines without body or depth of varietal character.

Top Award shows a classic example of the variety, plenty of punch, racy acidity and nerve.

Judges Comments:

Top awards show the 2 styles being persued with Viognier. Aromatic, zippy, finer style the other make fuller and viscous. Quite an even Class of viognier, it's just a matter of varietal intensity and balance of acidity, sweetness and alcohol.

Judges Comments:

Exhibit 6 moved to Class 1.

Difficult vintage conditions in many areas have resulted in broad, hard wines with cooked fruit. As always, vibrancy and freshness were rewarded.

Too many wines with basic winemaking faults such as oxidation and reduction.

Judges Comments:

While we recognise the commercial imperatives of sugar, this does not mean such wines will do well in shows. Too many wines are just simple solutions of water, alcohol and sugar.

Judges Comments:

Better wines have fruit density and balanced oak use.

Top Award shows great purity of cabernet character.

Many wines are too green, lean that are aging already, oak does not help this.

For a difficult year there were some decent examples of Cabernet Sauvignon.

Top wines were good examples of regional styles.

Main issues were premature development and tannin management.

Judges Comments:

Difficult Class with too many wines lacking freshness.

Gold Award showed the necessary life and fruit lift.

Judges Comments:

Generally a strong Class of wines with a good diverse array of wine styles. Top wines show great balance and fruit intensity. Some forward wines with oxidation faults and redeuctions.

Judges Comments:

Good medal strike, however few highlights. Top wine was head and shoulders above the rest... displaying a-typical varietal character and youth for 2005. Main issues were premature development and poor oak handling.

Judges Comments:

Most wines are advanced and tired. Little respect shown for the variety... too much hang time resulting in alcoholic early ageing dry reds.

Judges Comments:

Top Awards show a range of styles. Traditional Australian with strong primary fruit, a Pinot Noir that's excellent and a great example of a more savoury European style Rose. A strong Class.

Judges Comments:

Some good wines not really fitting the classical definition of Rose. These hybrid styles meet a consumer demand and can offer drinking pleasure.

Judges Comments:

Nice to see a wide range of shiraz styles represented. Most wines were varietal and clean. Main issues were oak handling and premature development.

A fantastic diverse line-up of wines. Top wines were seamless and balanced examples of varying regions, with integrated fruit, oak and tannins.

Judges Comments:

Award winners still show vibrancy of fruit and a range of varietal expression.

Top Awards have excellent structure and focus of fruit.

A strong Class overall.

Non Awarded wines show premature development, over oaked or overly extracted farning.

Judges Comments:

Many wines looking too developed. Freshness and vigour were rewarded - wines with dried out palates or sweet caramelised characters were marked down.

Producers should pay attention to giving their wines some longevity, or storing the finished wines in temperature-controlled areas.
