A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

I take pleasure and pride in presenting the results of a successful 2013 Australian Small Winemakers Show (ASWS). The ASWS is the culmination of countless meetings and many months of behind the scenes planning and organisation by members and volunteers of the Stanthorpe Agricultural Society Wine Committee. It never ceases to amaze me how much time is given up by our loyal and passionate volunteers. Without their toil and diligence, a Show such as ours cannot happen. The comradery and friendship of this volunteer group is extraordinary and I thank each and every one of them.

The aim of the ASWS is to promote and acknowledge excellence in winemaking by smaller sized producers. There is no disadvantage to those with limited resources as their commercial wines are benchmarked against other similar sized producers. This year saw receipt of 1 409 entries from 262 producers across Australia and New Zealand, and even a couple of entries from California.

This year we welcomed Panel Chair Rebecca Kennedy, and associate Judges Peter Wise, Keeda Zilm, Brent Williamson to the ASWS family. They joined returning Chairman of judges, Mike Farmilo, Panel chairs Joel Tillbrook, Trina Smith and Judges Adam Clay, Andrew Santarossa, Andrew Quinn, Carmelo D'Aquino, Adrian Sparkes, Jim McMahon, Ray Costanzo and associate Judges Geoff Cowey Warren Smith, Jason Froman and Craig Robinson. I thank them for their high level of commitment, professionalism and expertise.

Our Senior Judges have all offered expert guidance and experience to our seven associate judges of which this year, I am delighted to say, five were from Queensland. The ASWS is proud to provide this valuable training ground for up and coming wine professionals - an important facet of the show that cannot be underestimated as it allows our Associate Judges to be exposed to wine judging of the highest calibre.

Again we embraced and engaged with social media via Facebook and Twitter. This enabled us to provide timely information and updates to interested stakeholders and individuals and further promote the ASWS brand. I would encourage you to follow us on Twitter or like us on Facebook.

In order to engage further with the public and consumer, we have this year commenced our first "Judge for a day" experience. This is a unique and privileged opportunity for a wine enthusiast to be immersed into the world of wine show judging and wine show stewarding.

Lastly, I would like to congratulate all trophy and medal winners and thank all producers who have entered our wine show. I look forward to your continuing association with the ASWS.

Andy Williams
ASWS President

CHIEF STEWARD'S SUMMARY

The Australian Small Winemakers Show has concluded once more, and it has been yet again another excellent show. Organising classes, 20 Judges and Associates, their travel, accommodation and judging requirements takes a devoted team many months of effort. In addition, co-ordinating Judges and stewards, their meals, activities, rosters and tasks is a massive effort in its own right. With a show this large, preparation for the next year begins before the current show has even finished.

2013 is my 3rd year as Chief Steward but it still makes me apprehensive about the giant task ahead of myself and my team. But with the help of my 2iC (Ian Henderson) and my very experienced and well drilled team we managed to get every wine poured and in front of our Judges for their scrutiny. For this I would sincerely like to thank all of my volunteers for making the show run so smoothly, no matter how big or small the contribution. They all work extremely hard to ensure that the show is a huge success.

Our Judges and Associates this year came from all wine producing states in Australia. They have worked hard to deliver a fantastic result with medals equalling last year's performance.

I would like to thank the Judges and Associates for their time and effort which they have generously donated to make this show possible.

Lastly, I would like to thank all the exhibitors for entering show and congratulate all our medal winners on their award winning wines.

– Anthony Rametta, ASWS Chief Steward

CHAIRMAN OF JUDGE'S REPORT

Now in my second year as Chairman of the ASWS, it is pleasing to report that the high standard is being maintained. The number of Gold and Silver medals awarded, particularly in the commercially important table wine Classes, is growing, despite a drop in entries.

Chardonnays were once again a highlight, especially from the good quality 2012 vintage. Winemakers are obviously putting a lot of effort into making these wines more elegant, more complex, and this was an exciting and competitive Class to judge.

Sauvignon Blanc and Riesling from the 2013 Vintage were also strong with some lovely upfront, pure fruit flavours.

In the red wine Classes it was the traditional varieties of Shiraz and Cabernet Sauvignon that performed the best. 2010 was obviously a strong vintage for both these varieties, but the difficult 2011 Vintage produced quite a few Golds and Silvers also, showing that not all regions of Australia were affected by the cool and wet weather conditions.

It is encouraging in all the main Classes to see a diversity of styles being awarded top awards, reflecting the different regions being entered in the show and the level of excellence across the board.

It is not so encouraging to again remind exhibitors that the main criticism from the Judges, in both white and red wine, is the heavy-handed or inappropriate use of oak.

My congratulations to all the trophy and award winners on their success.

Thanks to my fellow judges for their dedication over the 3 days to the professional assessment of the wines.

Finally, congratulations to the Wine Show Committee led by Andy Williams, Anthony Rametta and Ian Henderson, and supported by a large team of capable stewards, on the organisation and running of such a professional judging.

I was pleased to be involved in such a successful wine show.

I commend the wines to you.

Mike Farnilo
ASWS Chairman of Judges,
Winemaking Consultant, McLaren Vale.
